The Participant shall execute and deliver instruments and other documents, cooperate with the Plan in every way, appear for depositions and hearings, and do whatever else is necessary to secure and pursue such rights. The Participant shall do nothing to prejudice such rights.

- C. In addition to creating rights for Participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for operation of the Plan. The people who operate the Plan, called “fiduciaries” of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of Legal Plan, Inc.’s Participants and their beneficiaries. No one may fire Participants or otherwise discriminate against Participants in any way for purposes of preventing Participants from obtaining a benefit or exercising their rights under ERISA.

If a Participant makes a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored in whole or in part, the Participant has a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

There are steps Participants can take to enforce their rights under ERISA. For instance, if Participants request materials from the Plan and do not receive them within thirty (30) days, the Participants may file suit in federal court. In such a case, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the Plan’s control, the court may require the Board or other Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay the Participants up to $110 a day until Participants receive the materials.

If a Participant has a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, the Participant may file suit in a state or federal court.

If Plan fiduciaries misuse Legal Plan Inc.’s money or if Participants are discriminated against for asserting their rights, Participants may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor or file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If Participants are successful, the court may order the person sued to pay these costs and fees. If Participants lose (for example, if the court finds that the claim is frivolous), the Court may order Participants to pay these costs and fees.

If you have any questions about the Plan, you should contact the Board or the Administrators. If you have any questions about your rights under ERISA or need assistance in obtaining documents from the Administrators, you should contact the nearest Area Office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor listed in your local telephone directory, or:
